CARE AND USE

TAPWARE: All finishes are smooth, abrasion resistant, corrosion resistant, fade-proof and easy to clean. All finishes are super hard wearing surfaces that won't chip, peel or tarnish with normal use. All surfaces should be regularly wiped clean with non scouring, neutral wash solutions. Never use an abrasive cleaner.

Waterware tapware is manufactured to a high specification featuring world renowned 'sedal' ceramic disk internals to ensure years of trouble free service.

All models are designed to operate on a balanced high pressure hot and cold supply (mains pressure) between 200 - 500kpa.

*Wels 0 Star Unrestricted

In our own kitchens we prefer the maximum flow to be a matter of user choice and therefore do not fit flow restrictors resulting in a WELS 0 star rating. However, flow restrictors may be requested at the time of order if that is your preference.

WHAT IS PVD?

Physical vapor deposition (PVD) is a collective name for vacuum deposition techniques used to produce thin films and coatings on various substrates.

The name of the method implies that the process involves changing matter from a solid or liquid phase to form a gas phase above the substrate, followed by condensation onto the substrate in order to form a film. During this process, the material undergoes chemical reactions and physical changes such as phase changes while passing through different states of aggregation.

- It does not require the use of chemical reagents or cleaning post-treatments, so it has a very low environmental impact.
- PVD can be applied to any type of inorganic material.
- The coatings obtained by PVD have great adhesion, resistance and durability.
- The PVD technique allows great control of the composition and thickness of the coatings.

Advantages of Nano-coating

Improved hygiene

The micro-rough surface of nano coating ensures that dirt, grease and moisture can no longer adhere directly to the steel sheet.

Protection against oxidation

The nano coating also protects stainless steel from unwanted oxidation by chemicals.

Self-cleaning surface

Nano coating for stainless steel makes it particularly easy to clean. Grease splashes and other dirt are simply wiped off with a damp cloth.

Anti-fingerprint

With a Nano-coating sealant, fingerprints are significantly reduced.

ABOUT
AURA GRANITE SINKS

Granite sinks are the new black.

If you're looking to add some sophistication and elegance to your kitchen, look no further than granite kitchen sinks. These beautiful sinks are made from crushed granite and resin, and they come in a variety of sizes and colors. They can be installed in a number of ways, including on top of the counter or flush-mounted.

Granite kitchen are made from a mixture of crushed granite and resin and have been growing in popularity in recent years due their anti-bacterial properties, durability, resistance to scratches, chips, heat and unique appearance. They are easy to clean - simply wipe them down.

While granite kitchen sinks are generally durable, they do require some care to maintain their appearance over time. It is important to avoid using abrasive cleansers or scrubbers on the sink, as these can cause scratches or damage to the surface. It is also important to avoid leaving acidic substances on the sink for extended periods of time.

Care and Use

Wipe Down Spills Immediately

We advise to clean up any spills immediately that fall directly on to the sinks surface, including harsh substances like, beetroot juice, red wine, baked beans or any other food scraps.

Clean Your Sink Regularly

Simply wipe down with a soft cloth and warm soapy water to remove any surface contaminants. To further reduce water spots, dry with a soft towel or a dry cloth. When the water evaporates, the minerals/salts are left behind, these can create water deposits (like on your car if you don't wipe it down with a dry cloth).

For Those Tough Marks

For more stubborn marks, use a 50/50 mix of white vinegar and water or a non acidic spray and wipe. Apply with a soft clean cloth then rinse and dry immediately.
